FINDINGS, CONCLUSIONS AND RECOMMENDATION OF THE UNITED STATES MAGISTRATE JUDGE

Pursuant to the provisions of 28 U.S.C. §636(b), and an order of the District Court in implementation thereof, the subject cause has been referred to the United States Magistrate Judge. The findings, conclusions and recommendation of the Magistrate Judge, are as follows:

FINDINGS AND CONCLUSIONS:

Type of Case: This is a petition for habeas corpus relief filed by a detainee of the Bureau of Immigration and Customs Enforcement (ICE) pursuant to 28 U.S.C. § 2241, et seq.

Parties: At the time of filing this action, Petitioner was incarcerated at the Rolling Plains Detention Center in Haskell, Texas. His whereabouts are presently unknown. Respondent is the Secretary of the Department of Homeland Security. The Court issued process in this case.

Statement of Case: On November 10, 2005, Petitioner filed this habeas corpus action challenging his detention pending removal pursuant to Zadvydas v. Davis, 533 U.S. 678 (2001). .

In response to this court's order to show cause, Respondent filed a motion to dismiss, advising that on December 5, 2005, Petitioner was released from ICE's custody on an order of supervision pending his removal to Iran. (Motion to Dismiss at 2). Petitioner has neither advised the court of his change of address nor objected to Respondent's motion to dismiss

Findings and Conclusions: Petitioner's release requires the court to examine whether it has jurisdiction over the instant action. See Fed. R. Civ. P. 12(h)(3) (stating that "[w]henever it appears by suggestion of the parties or otherwise that the court lacks jurisdiction of the subject matter, the court shall dismiss the action").

"Article III of the Constitution limits federal 'Judicial Power,' that is, federal-court jurisdiction, to 'Cases' and 'Controversies.'" United States Parole Comm'n v. Geraghty, 445 U.S. 388, 395 (1980). A case becomes moot "when the issues presented are no longer 'live' or the parties lack a legally cognizable interest in the outcome." Id. at 396 (quoting Powell v. McCormack, 395 U.S. 486, 496 (1969)). When a petitioner does not attack the validity of his conviction, but merely contests the imposition and duration of his confinement, the case becomes moot when he is no longer confined. Lane v. Williams, 455 U.S. 624, 631 (1982). "If a dispute has been resolved or if it has evanesced because of changed circumstances, including the passage of time, it is considered moot." American Med. Ass'n v. Bowen, 857 F.2d 267, 270 (5th Cir.1988).

The only relief sought in this matter was release from custody pending removal. Since Petitioner was released from custody, his ground for relief is now moot and this court lacks jurisdiction to consider his petition.

RECOMMENDATION:

For the foregoing reasons, it is recommended that Respondent's motion to dismiss be granted, and that the petition for a writ of habeas corpus be dismissed for want of jurisdiction the same being moot.

A copy of this recommendation shall be mailed to Petitioner and counsel for Respondent.

Signed this 10th day of January, 2006.
